Destructive Grasshopper.

The average grasshopper weighs one-third of an ounce and is capable each day of consuming its own weight of corn or wheat or forage crops. Thus it would appear that the number of these insects eaten by nesting birds daily would be able to destroy 174,397 tons of crops worth, at an average of $10 a ton, $17,439.

Service Mens' Club

A number of Campbell's service men have returned home and others are on their way. Many of our townspeople have spoken of a welcoming home entertainment and their future social welfare and doubtless ere long some concerted movement will be planned and carried out in this community, possibly at the instance of the War Work Council. That will be good and something should be done, but that will hardly be of a permanent nature.

Some of those who have returned have been discussing the formation of a service mens' club and it has been suggested that, to get an expression, all those out of service in this community leave their names and addresses at this Press office at the earliest possible date. If that advisable notices will be sent out calling the boys to meet and plan for an organization of such a club.

Pass the word along and let Campbell be among the first on the big national band wagon.

Pushing Own-a-Cow Campaign

Bankers are cooperating with the agricultural agent in Jefferson Davis Parish, La., in an "own-a-cow" campaign. The bankers are financing the farmers, and the agent is preaching the gospel of better live stock. In the fall of 1918 he bought five carloads, 160 head, including 5 registered bulls, of pure-bred Holsteins from Wisconsin. These dairy animals were widely distributed among the farmers, one or two head going to each owner. So pleased have been the owners of these pure breeds that the agent is already taking orders from others. It is probable that several additional carloads of such cattle will be purchased next fall, the agent reports, together with about 200 pure-bred calves for members of the boys' club. The bankers and the school board will back the proposition to help the boys get a start in cattle raising.

The Dependable Friend

Often your best friend is the one you least appreciate. He is so much the same always; treats you so uniformly well, so rarely sulks or says unkind things; is, in a word, so dependable that you may not give him the thought that is his due. He's like the solid ground under your feet. But perhaps a day arrives when—zowie! a bit of calamity comes. Then you rush off to the dependable friend for balm for an aching heart. And you are not disappointed.

There's a point of similarity, really, in the case of dependable merchandise. This piece of philosophy was suggested to the storekeeper by two questions which, contrary to the laws of metaphysics, seemed to be crowding his head at the same moment: namely, the question of a subject for this week's ad, and the question of whether or not there was ice enough in the refrigerator to last over night. The ice suggested—by association, of course—the subject of Isleton Butter.

Why, bless you, if you are a consumer of Isleton Butter it is doubtful if you ever give it a thought. You don't, really. It's so uniformly good. But if it wasn't good you'd think of it in a hurry. And so it has been with us at Blaine's. We have just passed out "Isleton" day after day, month after month, year after year with that feeling of unconscious heart-ease with which one leans on the dependable friend. "Isleton" never disappoints.

And now that the storekeeper is warmed up on the subject of "Isleton," is ready to give credit where credit is due, he must draw to a close for lack of space to say more. But this, as you see, is purely a physical matter and not due to lack of good intentions. Yet there is room for a final admonition: If you are not a user of Isleton Butter—get started. You'll make a dependable merchandise-friend, and you'll be grateful for the suggestion, truly.

Hunting Huns

Capturing Germans was not one of the duties imposed upon Y. M. C. A. secretaries in France but it fell to the lot of one secretary to gather in three boches and turn them over to Corporal R. F. Davies, 130th Infantry, 33rd Division.

"When our division captured Hill 304 on the morning of September 26," said Corporal Davies in telling of the incident, "we moved into the village of Germania from which the Germans had been driven. That same afternoon our Y. M. C. A. secretary came up with a sidecar motorcycle loaded with chocolate and cookies. Looking for a place to open shop he entered a cellar.

"It was rather dark. As he came out three Germans were following him, two with their hands up. He turned round and saw them, and noticed that one was carrying a machine gun. The only weapon the 'Y' man had was a cane. I happened to be going along there just then with some other prisoners we had taken and he called me over to relieve him of his unexpected captives. It was one of the funniest things I saw during the war."

Isn't the weather just about the finest for our fruit harvest?

BOY SCOUTS

KNOW SCOUTS' "UNCLE DAN"

On one of the warm days last winter when National Scout Commissioner Daniel Carter Beard was on the way to take the train to a big scout celebration in New York state, he was delayed for some time in Hoboken.

The air being close and the scout commissioner being dressed in full uniform, he stepped outside in the street to obtain a little fresh air. Unconsciously drawing himself up and expanding his lungs several times he made quite an imposing figure and was not aware that he was drawing a crowd of youngsters.

Lowering his chin after a full inhalation he discovered about twenty typical little street arabs around him. When they observed his gaze directed upon them, two of them suddenly stepped forward and saluted with military vigor.

"Uncle Dan" was amused, and thinking that they probably took him for some military officer, he said rather gruffly but amusedly, "Who do you think you are saluting?" One of them came back with the words, "The Chief." "Chief who?" said Mr. Beard. "Ah, you is Dan Beard—we know you." It is hard for the idol of boydom to rove into any circle high or low where he is not immediately recognized.

In order that all the older boys in the sea scouts of the Boy Scouts of America may be thoroughly grounded in life-saving and the kind of swimming necessary to help another in the water, the First Aid division of the American Red Cross in Washington has detailed Field Agent W. E. Longfellow to co-operate.

He is at the national headquarters of the scouts in New York, and working with Chief Sea Scout James A. Wilder, whose scouting experiences in the South seas makes him a mine of information and source of inspiration to scout leaders all over the world.

Commodore Longfellow has been in Red Cross service for five years and has just completed a tour of army posts and navy stations along the eastern coast, teaching Red Cross life-saving methods for water and land emergencies. More than 120,000 fighting men and civilians came under his instruction during the last year.

In the sea scouts, a boy who cannot swim and do life-saving cannot graduate from shore to rowboat activities; so that life-saving ability is one of the foundations of the sea scout training which the scout movement is offering the boys of America.

SCOUT TRAINING IS ENOUGH.

The state of New York, through its military training commission, is willing to recognize scout training as equivalent to the requirements of the military training law where the leadership is adequate and it can be established that the members of the troop actually receive the training made possible by the boy scout program.

Under no circumstances will the Boy Scouts of America permit the enrollment of boys as members of a troop merely for the purpose of seeking exemption from the provisions of the military training law.

As is made clear in the letter of the Boy Scouts of America to the military training commission, the primary motive in asking for the special arrangement by the commission was to conserve for the leadership in the Boy Scouts of America those scouts sixteen years of age and over who were needed as patrol leaders, expert instructors and assistant scoutmasters, and who could not in many cases maintain membership in two organizations.

BIG BOOST FOR SCOUTS.

National headquarters received a letter recently from Gen. S. M. Foote, United States army, in which he says: "I have looked through the boy scout handbook and read a great part of it. One regret follows me all through the book, and that is that there was no boy scout movement when I was a boy. I shall keep the handbook as a book of reference for my own information."

Would that every man of high character who feels that regret should interest himself as General Foote is doing in making the boy scout movement known to more boys.

General Foote met many youths in the middle West unable to join the boy scouts, or as scouts were unable to go forward with their program because their leaders had gone to war.

Their leaders have now returned from war, as have thousands of men who should be scoutmasters.

Meat Production Smashes Record

Twenty Billion Pounds Is Total for United States in 1918.

FARMER WAS BIG FACTOR

Output Never Approached in Magnitude in This or Any Other Country—Striking Increases in Exports Are Shown.

Washington. — American dressed meat production, including lard, amounted in 1918 to 20,129,800,000 pounds—a quantity never before approached in magnitude by the live stock industry of this or any other country. The corresponding figure for 1917 was 16,317,300,000 pounds.

Three-fourths of the enormous increase was in pork and one-fourth was in beef.

The meat surplus in 1918 was so great that extra export demands made little impression on it, although 1918 export shipments of meat and lard nearly doubled the 1917 figure—rising from slightly less than 1,750,000,000 pounds to slightly more than 3,000,000,000 pounds—and these figures do not include shipments to American military forces abroad.

The aggregate 1917 consumption of dressed meat and lard in the United States was approximately 14,500,000,000 pounds. This means, after allowing for increase in population an addition of 23 pounds for every man, woman and child in the country—despite the food-conservation campaign which in 1917 caused consumption to decline considerably.

Farmer Was Big Factor.

"While the people, as a whole, through their abstinence averted the immediate crisis, it was the farmer who was the really big factor in the ultimate situation," says the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture. "The producer, of course, was expected to do his part, but he did it with such powerful effect that in a single year the meat shortage was turned into a pronounced surplus. Thus in 1918 there was not only meat enough to supply all foreign demands compatible with the restricted shipping facilities, but a greatly enlarged quantity was available for the home consumption."

"To be sure, it cost the farmer more, much more, to feed his animals and get them to market. Likewise, all other steps from producer to consumer, became more costly, hence the high prices. But the unprecedented prosperity of the people, as a whole, enabled them to afford the increased cost. In fact, laboring people probably consumed more meat during the last year than in prewar times.

"The total number of cattle slaughtered in 1918 is estimated at 15,750,400, as against 13,723,900 in 1917. Their average weights were practically the same for both years, and the beef produced from them was 6,686,000,000 pounds in 1917 and 7,641,000,000 pounds in 1918. This was a remarkable achievement, as it hardly would have been credited that beef growers could increase their production a million pounds in one year.

Results Called Stupendous.

"The hog matures quickly, therefore a much more rapid increase would be looked for than was the case with cattle. Even so, the results for 1918 can be described only as stupendous. The hogs marketed in 1918 numbered 69,854,700, as against 57,483,800 in 1917. Furthermore, the average weight was nine and a half pounds more per hog in 1918. Thus when the animals are turned into pork and lard we have a total production of 11,225,664,000 pounds in 1918, as against 8,478,289,000 pounds in 1917, an increase of 2,747,355,000 pounds, or 32.4 per cent, nearly one-third."

Striking increases in exports also are shown by the bureau. Beef shipments abroad in 1918 were 94 per cent more than in 1917—the chief 1918 items being 514,000,000 pounds of fresh beef and 141,000,000 pounds of canned beef. Exports of pork and lard in 1918 amounted to 2,279,287,000—which was 71.7 per cent more than the quantity sent abroad in 1917.

The bureau shows that in the aggregate more meat by far is eaten in the

Foresters Trick German Bombers

Save Ammunition Dumps and Big Sawmills From Destruction.

YANKS PULL CLEVER STUNT

Electric Lights Strung in Woods Mislead Huns—World's Biggest Regiment Cut 3,000 Cords of Wood a Day for Fuel.

Washington.—How the Twentieth, the biggest regiment in the world, made up of lumbermen and foresters, fooled the Germans and saved ammunition dumps and big sawmills from the Hun bombers, is told by Percival Sheldon Ridsdale, secretary of the American Forestry association, of Washington, who recently returned from a three-month tour of France, Belgium and England investigating the forest losses of those countries. The association has planned to aid in the reforestation of those countries, also of Italy.

Fooled the Huns.

"The biggest mills operated by the Twentieth regiment," says Mr. Ridsdale, "were at Elclaron, in the forests of Argonne. These were situated near big ammunition dumps and as the plant was run all day and all night, being electrically lighted, it made a very good target. The mills were bombed several times, but none of the workers was injured nor was much damage done, and finally a real American trick resulted in so misleading the German bombers that the danger was entirely overcome. This trick was devised by Major Spencer, who, realizing that the electrically lighted mill was a bright target for the German bombers, ran electric wires into the heavy woods for a distance of one-third of a mile from the mill and installed a number of electric lights on the trees. Whenever an alarm of an air raid came, the lights of the mill were extinguished and the lights among the trees one-third of a mile from the mill were lighted by switching on the current and were kept blazing while the Germans wasted bombs on them and inflicted damage only on some of the trees.

"Other mills up along the fighting front were also bombed frequently, but without serious damage."

Continuing his statement about some of the wonders accomplished by this regiment of lumbermen and foresters during the war, Mr. Ridsdale writes in the American Forestry Magazine:

"The regiment was composed of 49 companies of approximately 250 men each, divided into 14 battalions and having connected with it 36 engineer service companies or labor troops. It was organized originally to contain 48 companies, but the Forty-ninth was added in France, being composed of members of the New England saw mill unit who had spent almost two years in cutting in the Scotch forests. Three officers and 90 men volunteered as a nucleus of this company. The full complement was secured by getting men from other organizations.

"The chief forest cutting of the regiment was in the Vosges section, with Epinal as headquarters. At Elclaron, in the forests of Argonne, was the largest single installation, a mill capable of shipping, as it did, an average of 5,000 ties a day. This mill furnished duck boards, bridge timbers, piles and poles, etc., for the First and Second armies.

"At the time the armistice was signed, the regiment had 81 lumber mills in operation and 12 more being installed."

The contingent with the First and Second American armies at the fighting front managed to secure and maintain a production of about 3,000 cords of wood a day, which supplied fuel for approximately 1,000,000 troops.

BRITISH PLAN FOR AIR MAILS

Newspapers Claim Supremacy in Commercial Development of Airplanes.

London.—The British press generally asserts that the commercial development of the airplane is much further advanced in Great Britain than in any other country. According to the American chamber of commerce in London, a mail service from Cairo to India already has been surveyed and a route from Cairo to the Cape of Good Hope is being laid out.

Aerodromes are to be established at suitable spots in the British Isles and British possessions and equipped with sound and light signals, balloons, aerial buoys, and wireless telegraph and telephone outfits.

"Already cargo airplanes are in sight," the chamber of commerce announces. "A huge British seaplane of novel type, equipped with five motors, has been flown, carrying six tons, at 100 miles an hour. Experiments are being made with another having a carrying capacity of nine tons."

MISS SYBIL FLETCHER

Miss Sybil Fletcher, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. F. F. Fletcher, is one of the attractive girls of the younger army and navy set in Washington. She is the older of two daughters and is attending Vassar this year.

United States than in any other country in the world—although some sparsely settled countries raising much meat have a larger per capita consumption. It also says that there is room in the United States for a great expansion in the use of mutton and lamb.

The White House Flock

The two lambs of the White House flock which were born early in the year were named George and Martha Washington by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. George is the aloof individual on the left, while Martha, who is the same size, is shown approaching the trough. In the background is the rear of the White House.

GIVE BABY CHICKS BEST OF CARE

"A few baby chicks well taken care of will give better results than double the number that are neglected," says H. R. McLean of the Colorado Agricultural college.

"Keep the hen and chicks free from lice and in comfortable quarters, otherwise look out for losses."

"Feed the baby chicks a little feed after they are 36 to 48 hours old. More chicks are killed the first three days after hatching by overfeeding than during any other period."

"If you keep the body growing you will find no chicks with drooping wings. Skim milk that is allowed to clabber furnishes the best animal protein for the growing chick. Give it to them slightly warm and start them out on it. The lactic acid helps clear the intestinal tract and a lot of bowel trouble is avoidable by its use. If fed in connection with bread crumbs, Johnny cake or a good commercial chick feed you can give them all the milk they need without harmful results."

"Don't change from sour skimmed milk to sweet or buttermilk, but feed one kind to avoid throwing them off their feed."

"Chicks should have access to good, clean, coarse sand or the fine commercial chick grit."

Abdications in Germany Will Include Total of 278 of Royal Families

A German professor figures out that the abdication and dethronements in Germany include 278 persons. Bavaria leads, with one king, one queen, 15 princes, 16 princesses, five dukes and one duchess. Prussia has sent 33 royalties into exile, including the emperor, the empress, 20 princes and 11 princesses. Brunswick is at the bottom of the list, with only the ducal couple and their three children. The two tiny principalities of Reuss, whose area is hardly one-third hundredths part of that of Prussia, have exiled 36 royalties.

The principality of Lippe, only about 20 square miles larger than the Reuss states, had a royal family numbering 24 persons. Most extraordinary is the case of Schaumburg-Lippe, with its area of 130 square miles, where there was nearly one royal personage for every five square miles. These included the reigning prince, seventeen princes and seven princesses.

Women May Be Members of the American Legion

Women who served in various war service work, including yeomanettes, army nurses and marine corps girls, are eligible for membership in the American legion, the association of veterans of the world war, according to a statement issued from the national headquarters of the organization. The announcement says that so many inquiries came from women who served during the war that it was decided to issue a formal notice. Preparations are under way to form the first post of women who had worn the uniform of their country. Whether or not the yeomanettes will unite in a post with the army nurses or whether the women will join the posts formed by the service men is to be left to the discretion of the local posts.

Flat Famine Threatens N. Y. Workers' Exodus

Tenement and home building must be resumed on a large scale in New York to prevent a general exodus of workers to other parts of the country, the state reconstruction commission announced. A shortage of 100,000 apartments exists in New York City, the statement said. Only half as many plans for new buildings were filed in 1918 as for the same period two years ago, and only a third of the buildings planned have been completed.

Zoo Superintendent Finds New Husband for Mourning Widow in Alligator Family

For many weeks Cy De Vry, superintendent of the Lincoln Park Zoo at Chicago, watched with utmost concern the ravages of melancholia upon the person and psychology of Desdemona, the brunette alligator, who some time since was bereft of her husband. He succumbed to influenza.

They were inseparable and had achieved a oneness of concord rarely encountered in the domestic domain. The unalloyed bliss they enjoyed was manifest to all. It was natural that with the visit of the grim reaper the weaker vessel, deprived at one fell stroke of prop and stay, should mourn deeply.

But De Vry thought time would assuage her grief. In this he was in error. After a consultation he decided that but one hope remained—to obtain a new husband.

In the Florida jungles there was captured Othello, a blackamoor. If Cupid's darts prove potent the gnawing grief wearing away the widow's heart will be eradicated forever and a day.

THE WORSHIP OF NATURE

The harp at Nature's advent strung
Has never ceased to play;
The song the stars of morning sung
Has never died away.

And prayer is made and praise is given,
By all things near and far;
The ocean looketh up to heaven,
And mirrors every star.

Its waves are kneeling on the strand,
As kneels the human knee;
Their white locks bowing to the sand,
The priesthood of the sea!

They pour their glittering treasures forth,
Their gifts of pearl they bring,
And all the listening hills of earth
Take up the song they sing.

The green earth sends her incense up
From many a mountain shrine;
From folded leaf and dewy cup
She pours her sacred wine.

The mists above the morning rills
Rise white as wings of prayer;
The altar curtains of the hills
Are sunset's purple air.

The winds with hymns of praise are loud,
Or low with sobs of pain
The thunder-organ of the cloud,
The dropping tears of rain.

With drooping head and branches crossed
The twilight forest grieves,
Or speaks with tongues of Pentecost
From all its sunlit leaves.

The blue sky is the temple's arch,
Its transept earth and air,
The music of its starry march
The chorus of a prayer.

So Nature keeps the reverent frame
With which her years began,
And all her signs and voices shame
The prayerless heart of man.

—Whittier.

Only 125 Cases of Total Blindness Among Yanks

There were only 125 cases of total blindness and fewer than 4,000 amputations in the American forces engaged in the war, it is stated by the bureau of war risk insurance in an announcement concerning the bureau's activity in supplying crippled soldiers and sailors with artificial limbs and in otherwise caring for the wounded and disabled. Not even all of the 125 cases of total blindness cited, it is stated, have yet been declared as permanent by the medical officers in charge. Relative to amputations, denial is made, on the authority of Surgeon General Ireland and Col. Charles E. Banks, chief medical officer of the war insurance risk insurance that there were any cases in which men lost both arms and both legs.

Cause of Bowlegs.

Bowlegs in growing children are caused by lack of milk. Walking at too early an age or too often has nothing to do with it. So declares a Pennsylvania county agriculturist. He says that scientific investigations show that all children should have milk, one quart a day at least, from the time they walk until they are full grown.

Dots Miller Arrives Home
From Army Duty in France and Joins the Cardinals

After spending nearly a year and a half with the marines in France, Dots Miller, one of the really capable ball players of the major leagues, has arrived home. He attended a few banquets and then hiked for St. Louis to join the Cardinals.

Miller was one of the first ball players to enlist and saw service almost

Sun the Universal Clock.
But It Was Always Wrong

From the beginning the sun was the universal clock, and the universal clock was always wrong—that is to say, twelve o'clock today was not exactly the same as twelve o'clock yesterday. But the sun had to serve as a clock to most people until little more than a hundred and fifty years ago, when public clocks took the place of sun dials and watches began to be comparatively common. Doubtless one of the earliest forms of getting somewhere near the hour was by length of shadow, an upright stick or spear, or even the erect form of the time teller himself serving as a natural gnomon. Even today, all over the far East, the only clocks in many, and, indeed, in most places, is the shadow which is obtained after one or other of these methods.

RIP VAN WINKLE

Old Rip, who fell asleep, you know, In pleasant days of fun and plenty, Woke up to find himself in slow And melancholy nineteen twenty.

He sought the succulent highway Where gay New Yorkers used to flutter; Gone were jazz band and cabaret, And even bread had lost its butter.

No more could men and maidens dance, No more through merry hours go skating; No more was there the slimmest chance Of jolly fellowship and feting.

All pretty frocks were quite taboo, No hat might sport a fluffy feather; No maid might wear a high-heeled shoe In any sort of place or weather.

The weary moon with scornful pride Glanced hopelessly at Freedom's eagle, "He boasts of Liberty," she cried, "When even flirting's now illegal."

"Alas!" yawned Rip, "why should I wake, When mortals from all joy must sever, And every wish some law shall break?"

So off he went to sleep forever. —Charlotte Becker in New York Sun.

San Jose.—A daring attempt was made Thursday night, July 3, to burglarize the Labor Temple. Amateur safe crackers entered through a side window soon after midnight, and the desk of the Labor Council was broken open. As there was nothing of value in the desk, the burglars assailed the safe, an ancient institution, and if the burglars had been experts they would have opened it without difficulty. As it was they were "denied" the outside door. They worked by candle light. The unburnt portion of the candle was found in an old shoe box close to the safe by Chief Black Saturday morning.

San Jose.—News was received in this city July 4 of the death of William C. Campbell, for many years postmaster of Los Gatos and one of the most prominent figures in the life of that city. He was 62, and died Tuesday morning in Visalia of paralysis. Campbell leaves a wife, Mrs. Jessie Campbell, a daughter, Miss Helen Campbell, who is a teacher in the Hester school of this city; and a son, Paul C. Campbell.

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness. This drug is called freezezone, and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist doesn't have freezezone have him order it for you.—Adv.

UGH! A DOSE OF NASTY CALOMEL

It salivates! It makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.—Adv.

Fortsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—MRS. SARA SHAW, R. Palmer-Bean

Altho the event occurred some weeks ago we know that Campbell friends will be pleased to learn the particulars of the wedding of Howard Stewart Bean of Campbell and Margaret Irene Palmer of Orange, California, which occurred June 10th.

While the sister of the bride played "To a Wild Rose," the beautiful double ring ceremony was read in presence of the immediate relatives. The living room was a bower of ferns and coropis, while the dining room, was gay with bachelor's buttons and carnations.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in white georgette crepe, bead trimmed, with a bridal veil held in place with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of white gladiolas and sweet peas with maiden hair ferns.

The young lady is a graduate of the Orange Union High School and the California School of Arts and Crafts at Berkeley, while the groom is an alumnus of Campbell High and the University of California.

The young people motored to Campbell and spent a week with the groom's parents before leaving for New York.

Mr. Bean is employed in the U. S. Bureau of Standards, being in charge of the New York City branch where he will be for such time as the government continues that office, but he anticipates returning to California in the future.

Non-resident Interested in Campbell

Editor Interurban Press--

Sir:-- You published an article last week dealing with the Canning industry of Campbell. It was a very interesting and enlightening article showing the progress and improvements being made by these local institutions.

I want to tell you about another institution which seems to be little known; judging from the patronage or rather lack of patronage--it receives. I am referring to a little Church one half block north of the bank. I wandered in one Sunday evening some months ago and it was so restful and quiet that I have continued to go in each Sunday evening since. They sing two or three good old fashioned hymns, (this feature might be improved somewhat). And then there is a good plain gospel talk by the preacher lasting about twenty minutes. These talks are decidedly interesting without any apparent effort to dogmatize.

There are two other noticeable and unusual features in this little church on Sunday evenings. They don't pass the hat--and there are as many men in attendance as there are women. So I am thinking that there are others who like myself would enjoy a quiet and pleasant half hour of a Sunday evening.

It seems to give the week a better start. And there is still time for a nice walk after the service as they seldom keep us later than 8:15.

If you can use this or any part of it Mr. Editor, it might help some of your community to spend a pleasant Sunday evening occasionally.

Not-A-Campbellite.

Mrs. Ellen McLernon of San Francisco is a guest at the C. E. Hanger home.

John Wood called on some of his old time friends in Campbell yesterday.

Gilbert Newcomb has received his discharge and is visiting his brothers in the East and middle west before returning to Campbell.

Wili Davenhill who was recently discharged from Uncle Sam's army, has gone into partnership with his father in the hay, grain and fuel business in Santa Cruz. Mr. Davenhill was assistant for a number of years on the Harry Bean ranch, and took care of the place while Mr. and Mrs. Bean attended their son's wedding last month.

MICKIE SAYS

AT THE SOURCE

The British press agreeing with newspapers of this country are much opposed to the trial and conviction of the ex-Kaiser. In fact quite a number of our good people can see little to be gained by such an action and much may be lost. The best way to eliminate Bill Hohenzollern is to let him die in oblivion. If he is exiled or executed, he is just so soon made a martyr of a great following in Germany and that act will do much to unite Germany against the allied nations for years to come. Let him live and die a dishonored man.

THE STATE COMMITTEE on readjustment has selected California's natal day, September 9, for a state-wide welcome home celebration for her boys of national service. Acting on this suggestion Gov. Stephens will probably issue a proclamation setting that date. It is high time that proper plans were under way to make such an occasion a memorable one. Undoubtedly Santa Clara county will act as a unit in this big time with San Jose as the mobilizing center.

America is now being honored by having a distinguished visitor among her people. Woodrow Wilson is visiting the land of his birth. The length of his visit has not been made known but his friends hope it may be prolonged for a few months at least.

OH, for a good swim! A common expression in this vicinity these days. And why not? When the old grammar school is removed, why not enlarge the basement and make a real honest to goodness community swimming pool.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dunphy and daughter Harriet spent Sunday with Mr. Dunphy's brother-in-law, Mr. Daves, at Burlingame, celebrating a few friends' birthday.

The San Felipe brothers, who paid $100,000 for the McKagney orchard last spring, announced they would take $50,000 worth of prunes off it this fall. It is one of the large orchards of the valley.

The R. Alison and E. R. Kennedy families are busy completing arrangements for their trip to Yosemite. They will leave Wednesday, accompanied by the Misses Kennedy and Miss Conway, expecting to be gone about two weeks.

The G. E. Atkinson family will move from Martinez this week and after they are settled will be at home to friends at 169 South 10th Street, San Jose. E. C. Merrill will move their furniture by motor truck.

Joint Installation

A joint installation of officers of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Lodges of Campbell will be held in the local hall Tuesday evening. Ethel Benson and suite of Santa Clara will have charge of the ceremony for the Rebekahs.

The Odd Fellow installation will be conducted by District Deputy Grand Master T. A. Robinson and his suite of deputies. They are: J. G. Burns, marshal; W. Finnemore, secretary; R. Scholz, treasurer; A. F. Bulmore, warden; M. Bollinger, guardian and B. Dalvit, herald.

How to Go Up Stairs.

How do you go upstairs? With your body bent over? And clinging to the banister? That isn't the way to profit by stairclimbing. Going upstairs is a fine chance for body training. People who know its value in physical culture go upstairs in a prescribed way. This is how to do it: You pause lightly on the balls of your feet; you lift your chest; you inhale a good long breath; then you go up easily and quickly as if you were lifted by your chest. See? Try it.

Average Accidents.

Women are always the first to be called upon wherever and whenever an accident occurs. The average man is indeed, only too glad to do what he can, but he doesn't know what to do. Nine times out of ten the only help he can render is to rush to a telephone and call a doctor or ambulance to the scene, and he certainly deserves the highest praise for such commendable work, but the average woman has it in her to help materially at such a time.

Indolent Genius.

Indolence has produced a good many works of genius. James Thomson not only wrote his famous "Seasons," but also a very characteristic poem called "The Castle of Indolence." He was himself one of the most indolent of men. It is said that he was too lazy to stretch out a hand to pick a peach from the wall, but simply stopped and pecked at it where it hung. But whether that is a libel or the truth, it is certain that most of his poetry was composed in a recumbent position. He always wrote best in bed!
